DAAD End-of-Studies Scholarships for International Students 2019

As part of the "STIBET" program, Osnabrück University’s International Office will award end-of-studies scholarships (promoted by the DAAD and financed by the Federal Foreign Office) to international students in 2019. The scholarship amounts to 262,50€ per month from June until September (total: 1050€).

Eligibility and Selection Criteria

- International students who did not receive their university entry qualification from a German high school ("Bildungsausländer")
- Must be currently enrolled at Osnabrück University as a degree-seeking student (bachelor, master, state exam) in the final year of their studies
- Good or very good results in their previous studies
- Students who face financial difficulties through no fault of their own will receive special consideration
- International students who already receive a scholarship from public funds for the same purpose are excluded from consideration
- Students who have received an end-of-studies scholarship before are excluded from consideration

Application Documents

- Application Form
